Heavy metals

The sum of the heavy metals cadmium, lead, chromium and mercury is less than 100 ppm, and therefore complies with EU regulations 94/62 EC, 2004/12/EC, 2005/20/EC, 2013/2/EC.

Storage

The Aluminum foil must be stored in their original packaging, dry and at room temperature

We recommend a maximum storage period of 12 months.

Traceability

We confirm the batch identification and the thereby guaranteed traceability of all delivered products in accordance with EC Regulation 1935/2004, Article 17.

General

Testing the suitability of the packaging for the specific content, the behavior of the content during and after packaging as well as possible interactions between the content and the packaging are the responsibility of the user and may require the user to take appropriate measures. In particular, the user must check for himself whether the packaging is suitable for the intended use.

This declaration is valid for 3 years from the date of issue and will be replaced should there be any important changes in production, materials used or other EU regulations, which will render this document invalid.
